Have You Noticed?

If you haven't seen the PEP Klystron that has been relocated to the pad outside of the Test Lab as you walk around the Quad, you're working too hard and really need a Turkey Day off!

Holiday Readings

Get into the holiday spirit by reading any or all of the SLAC Book Group selections for December. Truman Capote's "A Christmas Memory," O. Henry's "Gift of the Magi," and Theodore Taylor's (award-winning author of "The Cay") "Maria, A Christmas Story" are all big in spirit but short enough in length to be read by Friday, December 8. For more information, see the SLAC Book Group Web site.

Super-Kamiokande Accident

The massive underground facility in Japan where researchers are studying neutrinos was damaged in an accident while workers were replacing photodetectors. The Daily Yomiuri reports that an estimated half of the facility's light sensors were destroyed and may cost more than 2 billion yen to repair.

MUSE Needs Mentors

Santa Clara University engineering alumni are asked to volunteer to be mentors for the MUSE program (Mentoring Underrepresented Students in Engineering) which has over 80 undergraduates in the program and very much needs mentor volunteers from outside academia.

Math Webbies Rejoice

Eric Weisstein's World of Mathematics, a free, online encyclopedia of mathematics has returned to the Web. It was taken down for some time due to a lawsuit by CRC Publishing.

FleaMarket

You can post your classified ad using the SLAC FleaMarket Submission form. You can get to the current ads from the Announcements section on the SLAC Home Page. These pages can be viewed from computers within the SLAC domain.
