Keep the Traffic Flowing

When driving up to the Main Gate, individuals are often searching for their ID and either stop their car in the line to look or take extra time next to the guard. This delays the traffic flow and can create a backup on Sand Hill Road. The guards want everyone to know that it's perfectly OK to tell the guard at the Gate "I have to find my badge" and then pull over to the right. You can then continue to locate your ID while others pass through the gate.

Sad News from the Mt. Stromlo Observatory

The Mt. Stromlo Observatory was very hard hit by the January 18, 2003 bush fires that swept areas around southeast Australia. Most of the facilities at the observatory were impacted. Eight houses on the mountain, and all five telescopes were destroyed beyond repair. On the positive side, the rebuilding process has already begun and almost everyone is back at work.

FrontPage Assistance Available

Want some help with your FrontPage Web? Stop by anytime during the monthly workshop hours and ask Ruth McDunn, a long time FrontPage user and SLAC's Web Information Manager. The training room is set up with FrontPage 2002 and you can see what the new client and server combination has made easier. Workshop Date: First Wednesday of the month staring 02/05/03, 02:00 - 4:00 pm. No fee, no registration. Location: Computer Center (Bldg. 50), 1st floor, Room 111

Flamenco Dance Classes Coming to SLAC

Ever wanted to learn Flamenco dance? Now is your chance. Beginning Friday, February 7, a professional dancer and choreographer will be teaching flamenco dance in the exercise building between Buildings 24 and 25 along the ring road (where aerobics classes are currently held). Two sets of classes are available: Beginning, from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m., and Intermediate, from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. There are fliers on the bulletin board in the aerobics room, or contact Karen Lawrence for more information. Fee is $90 for each six-week session.

Cool Link of the Week: Janitorial Service

From cleaning lobby windows to emptying trash, keeping our facilities clean and tidy requires a complex and comprehensive system. Find out more about cleaning services and schedules on the SEM Department Web site. You can even order special cleaning services -- check out the detailed listing.

What else are you curious about on our Web site? Send me a note and I'll look into it.
