SLAC Remains at Security Level 2

You may have seen today that the Attorney General in consultation with the Homeland Security Council has made the decision to return the level of threat for risk of terrorist attack back to "yellow." However, SLAC remains at Security Level 2, which corresponds to Homeland Security Alert Level "orange." If there are any changes, staff will be notified by the Director's Office.

Collider Triple-Feature in Science Magazine

No less than three articles on the Linear Collider were featured in the February 21 issue: Collision Course With Reality, Why Physicists Long for the Straight and Narrow, and One Collider, Many Countries: How to Share the Wealth?

CalTrain Schedule to Change March 3

Commuter alert: CalTrain is changing its schedule at the end of this week—times will alter slightly. The SLAC Employees Shuttle schedule will remain the same. The SLAC Employees shuttle operates Monday through Friday year round (except campus holidays) between Palo Alto Train Station and SLAC, from 6:41 AM to 8:15 AM and again 3:20 PM to 5:00 PM.

SSRL Co-Chairing International Meeting on Synchrotron Radiation Instrumentation

The Eighth International Conference on Synchrotron Radiation Instrumentation (SRI 2003), sponsored by the SSRL and the ALS, will be held August 25-29, 2003, at the Yerba Buena Center for the Arts in San Francisco, California. The deadline to submit abstracts from which oral presentations will be selected is Monday, March 3, 2003. Register before Tuesday, June 3, 2003 for the early registration discount.

Start Planning for Kids Day

Mark Your Calendars! Kids Day @ SLAC has been scheduled for Tuesday, July 15, 2003. Like the previous events, there will be hands-on workshop sessions (electronics, mechanics, vacuum, magnetics, waves, video conferencing, cryogenics, metrology, biology and much more). The event web site will be published the first week of May and registration will begin Monday, June 2.
